

Harleys Club Night (The Bedtime Canon Book 8)

A BDSM short story, for over 18s only. This book contains extreme language and scenarios. Harley wanted to bring his extreme sexual fantasies to life; he heard of a special night club where all things might be possible ...Several of the rooms were in darkness; in the first occupied one, Harley saw a girl, her feet on the floor, her body bent over a bench. Her wrists were tied to rings at the other end of the bench, and her ankles were fastened to the legs. She was a big girl; in the room with her were three couples, and the girls were using leather whips to flog her back. Harley could see the flesh rippling out from each slash of a whip, and he could also see her skin part under the savage blows. The men all had erections, and as the blood started to flow from the fat girls back, Harley saw one of them take his place between her legs. Ignoring the pinkness of her cunt, the man held his cock to the little brown ring of her arse. He pushed; the girl screamed out as the pain of his assault briefly stood out over the continuing beating her back was taking. He was in to his whole depth in a single stroke, then he was sodomizing her hard. Harley saw the blood on the mans cock, a sure sign that the girls arse was not used to such treatment. The other two men were stroking their own erections while they waited their turn, and the girls were whipping the fleshy back with renewed enthusiasm. Harley felt his own penis harden as he watched the scene below him; unfortunately for him, Iola saw it too. She flicked a switch on her electric control box and Harley felt a searing pain across his chest. Leaving the current on, Iola stepped a little way back, to give herself room to move, and her riding crop made violent contact with the stiff little organ. Crying out with the two different types of pain, Harley was unable to do anything, but the beating of his cock made it subside very quickly. Once it was back to its shrivelled state, Iola cut the power. He got one more glimpse into the room, where the second man was powering into the girls arse. Her back was a bloody mess by now, but the girls werent letting up.

The Blood Service is remarkable, its existence depends on the continued support of more than 600000 Australians who give their time and blood as a gift.
