The deceased, who was in his 50th year, leaves a widow and two children. Frommann.--Herr Edward Frommann, the well-known publisher of Jena and author of some essays on the History of the Book Trade, reviewed in these columns some years ago, died on the 10th ult. Gould.--We much regret to announce the sudden death of the second son of Mr. Joseph Gould, printer, of Middlesbrough, and well known as the author of the Letterpress Printer and the Compositors Guide. The deceased was twenty-one years of age. Mr. Goulds third son, who has been staying two years in America, has returned within the last week or two, and will now assist his father in the business. Those who know Mr. Gould will not fail to commiserate him in his sad bereavement. Griffiths.--Mr. Samuel Griffiths, lately of Cannon-street, and formerly of Wolverhampton, a well-known iron broker, and editor of the London Iron Trade Exchange, died on the 24th ult. The journal in question had--1 been originally carried on at Wolverhampton, under the title of Griffiths s Iron Trade Circular. The deceased was a large shareholder in the Birmingham Daily Post. Jehring.--On the 6th June, at Hanover-street, Peckham, John Paul D. Jehring, second son of J. H. D. Jehring, aged 32. Lockwood.--We regret to announce the death of Mr. Benjamin Crosby Lockwood, formerly of Highbury-grove, which took place last month at Nice. He was the eldest son of the late Mr. Mark Lockwood, who for many years occupied a prominent position in the house of Messrs. Simpkin, Marshall, & Co.

The deceased, who was in the 38th year of his age, had been formerly actively engaged in...
