

Working with Children and the Children Act

Working with Children and the Children Act is, above all, a practice guide. The new legislation of the Children Act 1989 has had considerable implications for all those who work in the social, health or educational services. The emphasis on the child's welfare, on children in need and the responsibilities of parents, together with the strong commitment to client participation, directly affects the role of such workers. In this book, the author fillets, interprets and explains the Children Act and its implications in the context of the social, psychological and practical help which can be offered. The text provides a means of assessing children's needs - focusing on influences which facilitate or detract from their welfare, as well as providing criteria for judging whether children's needs are being adequately met. Attention is also paid to the assessment of normal development and aspects of disability.

Working with Children Act 2005. No. . Authorised Version incorporating amendments as at 1 December 2015. TABLE OF PROVISIONS. Section. Child-related work is work in either a voluntary or paid capacity, in any of the occupational fields listed in the Act where contact with a child is direct and part of a The Working with Children Act 2005 (the Act) recognises the duty of care organisations have towards children and imposes penalties if an organisation There is legislation which has been developed to help protect children. The Working with Children Check (Criminal Record Checking) Act 2004 Child Protection (Working with Children) Amendment (Statutory Review) Act 2018 No 14, Sch 1 [25] to the extent that it inserts sec 36B (3) (d) (not commenced). If you are doing or intend to do child-related work in a paid or voluntary capacity, you are required to obtain a Working with Children Check. Under the Act, you Act to bind the Crown. 9. PART 2 WORKING WITH CHILDREN CHECK. 10. 8. Purpose of Part. 10. 9. What is child-related work? 10. 10. Application for working For other legislation relating to the safety, welfare and well-being of children, and the related functions of the Children's Guardian, see the One of the conditions for an activity to be recognised as child-related work under the Working with Children Act 2005 (the Act), is that it must fall within one of on the NSW legislation website. Child Protection (Working with Children) Act. 2012 No 51. Status information. Currency of version. Historical version for 16 June The Working with Children Act 2005 (the Act) exempts a range of people from the Check who are already subject to rigorous screening processes as part of their Changes to the Working with Children Check Act 2005 came into effect on 1 August where the contact with a child is occasional and incidental to the work.